

Presentation Skills for Graduate Students

Year: 2022-2023

The general aim of the Presentation Skills course is to give some tools to the PhD students to prepare effective scientific presentations. The course is organized in two parts: the first part is more focused on the preparation of the contents of the presentation and of the slides, the second part is focused on the improvement of the speech performance.

At the moment, the first part of the course is in English and the second in Italian, but we could change it, depending on needs.

In order for the course to be effective, the total number of participants should not exceed 30.

The course has a large overlap with the course Tecniche di Presentazione, available for students of the Laurea Magistrale.
